EDUCATION

Georgia Institute of Technology — Coding Bootcamp

December 2020 - May 2021

Was taught all of the building blocks of full-stack development by working developers. Also learned to cooperate with fellow developers through several group projects and activities.

PROJECTS

Shop Your Pantry — API based recipe lookup app

Using basic Javascript and a few APIs, my team and I built a website where you can input the ingredients you have in your pantry in order to find recipes that require the least amount of shopping to make.

Electric Sheep — A dream journal

My team and I built a working dream-based forum with sequelize managed databases.

Gardenista — A plant management app

A react app that allows you to create an account and keep track of plants in your garden.

JavaScript Password Generator

A web app that allows you to randomly generate a secure password based on what type of characters you want.
